ABOUT OUR SINGLE VINEYARD WINES

In the Bockenheim district, we cultivate sites on the Schlossberg, Heiligenkirche, Sonnenberg and Vogelsang. In Kindenheim, our wines are grown on the Katzenstein, Burgweg and Vogelsang sites.

The soils of these Bockenheim and Kindenheim sites are all characterized by plentiful nutrients and a high limestone content. The prevalent cool climate of the northern Pfalz promotes longer ripening in the grapes; together with the mineral soil structure, it enhances the expressiveness of our wines. These are powerful bottles of elegant acidity and a nimble palate.

Across our portfolio, from the vineyard to the cellar, we believe in doing the work ourselves and by hand. That's why our hand harvest and grape selection are just as important to us as continual canopy management and vine pruning. Our grapes are our greatest treasure, and it's up to us to treat them as gently as possible. In the cellar, we use gravity to avoid the need to pump the wine from the press. We then indulge the wines with a slow, extended maceration that encourages them to develop their best aromatics. The cold soak applied to both white and red wines is another integral part of our gentle vinification.

WEISSBURGUNDER TROCKEN

Recommended serving temperature: 8-10°C (46 - 50° F)

VINEYARD NOTES

This location is both low-lying and sheltered. Taken together with its limestone soils and rich nutrient supply, it has proven an ideal location for our Pinot family vines. It is a warm site, with limestone-rich soils that promote exceptional body and power in our Weissburgunder.

VINIFICATION

The grapes for our Weißburgunder are selectively hand harvested, with yields reduced to roughly 5,000 liters of wine per hectare of vineyard. The wine undergoes partial wild fermentation and is raised 100% in barrel.

TASTING NOTES

Rich nutty aromas mingle with creamy vineyard peach. A compact structure, with tremendous momentum on the palate and a delicious finish.
